BEAUTIFUL CHURCH WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

Marriage of Miss Shirley C. Burns and Mr. Harry C. Wellman A Handsome Affair

The brides must have whispered to Miss Shirley Burns that Wednesday, October 17, 1917, would be an ideal wedding day, else she might not have chosen a day so perfect for the happiest and most important venture of her life. At 9:30 o'clock in the morning she gave herself into the keeping of Mr. Harry C. Wellman, in the presence of a large gathering of friends in the beautiful new building of the M. E. Church South. It was the first event of the kind to take place in this edifice. The decorations, the music, the ceremonies, all blended with the splendid weather to make a most harmonious setting for the auspicious scene.

Long before the hour arrived for the ceremony the wedding guests thronged the new temple of worship which had been simply, yet most tastefully decorated by the use of the naturally tinted autumn leaves, along with ferns and other greenery arranged around the altar, rostrum and choir platform. The rich golden harp used in the musical program occupied the center space, adding to the beauty of the plan. The bride's Sunday school class of girls, all dressed in white and seated in the front pews, lent charm to the picture.

As the guests assembled a beautiful program of wedding music was rendered. Miss Kizzie Chay Burns, sister of the bride, played a violin solo, with her accompaniment by Miss Arline Ochs, school friend of the bride, and a real artist in music. Miss Ochs afterward very beautifully rendered a harp solo. This was followed by two lovely vocal selections by Miss Fawn Donaldson, of Ashland.

As the bridal march from Lohengrin was sweetly played by Miss Kizzie Burns on the violin, accompanied by Mrs. George R. Vinton, the wedding party entered the church. First down the left aisle came the maid of honor, Miss Arline Ochs of Kenton, Ohio, in a suit of blue cloth, with corsage of pink roses. Then came the charming bride with her father, who gave her in marriage. There was a modish suit of cloth of the new shade, tomato, with seal trimmings, and hat and shoes to harmonize. She wore an exquisite corsage of bride's roses. At the altar she was joined by the bridegroom with his best man, Mr. E. E. Adams, who preceded by the Rev. L. E. McElwain, had entered the church by the door at the right of the pulpit. The ring ceremony was used in a very beautiful and impressive manner and seldom are such inspiring and touching words of blessing heard as those which fell from the lips of Rev. McElwain. The party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and drove to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Burns. At 10:15 they left for a trip to New York and other eastern cities.

The bride is a pretty and talented young woman, a graduate of a Christian school. She is accomplished in music and painting and is blessed with many of the graces that make a woman attractive and worth while. Possessing a sunny disposition she has always found a welcome wherever she has gone, and her friends are legion. If good wishes count for anything she has enough to make her life one long, sweet song.

The groom is a trusted and efficient employee of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway company, having charge of the ticket office and express business at the passenger depot in Louisa. He enjoys the respect and confidence of everybody, which is as strong a recommendation as it is possible to have. He properly attend him and may be he was successful in every way as he has been in winning a worthy wife.

Presently by the score were showered upon the bride previous to the wedding day. We mention as an interesting coincidence that the bride's parents were the first persons married in the church building displaced by the new structure.

Among the out of town guests were the following:

Rev. Auxler Matthews of Charleston, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Burns of Callettsburg, Mrs. Frank Mott of Corbin, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gallacher of Callettsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brownson and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Long of Huntington; F. R. Hunsy and family, and Mrs. Helene Hug of Bueysville; Mr. Kolba of Ashland, and Mr. and Mrs. Lon Wellman of Pikeville.

MRS. LINDON BRODE GIVES "SHOWER" FOR MISS BURNS

Mrs. Lyndon Brode of Wavland, entertained beautifully on last Friday evening with a miscellaneous shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Garred, this city, in honor of Miss Shirley C. Burns, whose marriage to Mr. Harry Wellman took place on the following Wednesday.

After the guests had been received the bride-elect was escorted into the parlor and was asked to pull two ribbons and upon doing so an immense red heart on the piano sprang open and the shower fell from it. Miss Burns united the daintily wrapped packages and had something pretty and appropriate to say about each gift. The collection was of cut glass, silver, linen and china and is highly prized by these young people who are soon to go to housekeeping in their newly furnished home on upper Jefferson street, this city.

Miss Arline Ochs, a school friend of Miss Burns, who is here to attend the wedding, rendered some very beautiful music on the piano.

A refreshment course of salad, sandwiches and coffee was served, Mrs. Brode and her mother being assisted by Mrs. Dora Greeter.

Miss Burns was a beautiful evening gown of blue and silver which was very becoming to her brunette tints. Miss Ochs was attired in a pretty rose gown and the hostess wore a lovely creation of cream lace and satin. It was altogether a pretty and happy event.

SOUTHERN BELL COMPANY SUBSCRIBES TO LIBERTY LOAN

Colonel W. T. Gentry, President of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company and the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company announce that the Bell system, comprising the American Telephone and Telegraph company and associated companies, has subscribed for $5,000,000 of the second Liberty Loan bonds on behalf of themselves and their employees. The subscription of the southern group of which Col. Gentry is President, amounts to $350,000 of this the Southern Bell company and its employees subscribed $165,000 and the Cumberland company and its employees $185,000. It is stated that the subscriptions are to be allotted to the Federal Reserve Districts in which the companies operate, in proportion to the quotas assigned by the Treasury Department to the various Federal Reserve Districts, so that each district will get credit for its proportionate share of the subscription. All of the Bell companies have arranged to advance the necessary funds on liberal terms to their employees, who wish to subscribe to the second Liberty Loan. It is believed that a large number of Bell employees will make individual subscriptions and that this plan will enable many to buy bonds, who otherwise could not participate in the loan.

"Coal delivered direct to the consumer from the mine by wagon or truck (whether from wagon mines or other mines) shall be sold at not more than the prices fixed by the President and the Fuel Administrator, plus the actual cost of hauling.
"Coal bought by a railroad for its own use as fuel from a wagon mine hauling to such railroad, shall be sold at not more than the prices fixed by the President and the Fuel Administrator, plus the actual cost of hauling.
"No charge for hauling may be made by an operator of a wagon mine or paid by the purchaser of the coal on coal shipped by rail, except where such shipment is made in box cars, in which case an additional charge of 75 cents a ton may be made. MR. GEORGE T. KAY WITH BIG SANDY NEWS

The following from the Vidette at India, Miss., will serve as a proper introduction of Mr. Kay to the people of Louisa. He is now associated with the Big Sandy News:
After about three years spent in this little city, Mr. Geo. T. Kay left last Saturday for other friends, going directly to Cincinnati. Last where he will locate we are not advised at this writing.

Mr. Kay had been associated with us about five years—at Collierville, Tenn., and in Louisa—and our relations had ever been of a most pleasant character and it was like giving up one of our own family to have him go away. We found him always a competent, valuable and valued employee and in all our long newspaper career we never had anyone who looked to our personal interest and paid as much attention to our business interests as he. In fact he took as much interest in the business as if it were his own, and we commend him to the publishing and printer's fraternity with pleasure.

Mr. Kay is a gentleman of pleasing address, a large, kind heart, lenient to his foes, as true to his friends as "the needle to the pole," and "honest to a fault." He made scores of friends in Louisa, who like us, regret his departure—and not an enemy that we have heard of.

Our very best wishes go with you, George, wherever your lot may be cast. May the winds of adversity or trouble, if they should strike you, do so very gently and may the breezes of prosperity continually waft you to a successful, peaceful and prosperous goal, until at last you cast anchor in the haven of eternal rest.

Mrs. P. L. Stewart was hostess Thursday afternoon to the ladies of the Finch Club.

Geo. R. Lewis left Sunday for Louisville to attend the Grand Lodge of Kentucky Masons. He holds the office of high priest in the Louisa chapter.

"JACK" WRITES HIS LAW-
RENCE COUNTY FRIENDS

Camp Taylor, October 14, 1917.
To all who would like to hear from the Lawrence county boys:

The boys here are having good times. When we left Louisa all the good people there treated us awfully nice. The candy we got there did us a week. Maybe some got candy and some not, but when we got here we all ate it together. We treat each other here like brothers. They are all allies. Nobody is better than some one else.

When we got to Ashland they furnished us a fire lunch. You can call it "lunch" if you want to, but some of us never did see such a lunch—a big shoe box full of food, fruit and all kinds of good things. And another thing, too, before we left Louisa I telephoned my sister at Ashland and she met me at the train with a big basket full of all kinds of good things. I think it must have weighed forty pounds. We ate on it until we got to Lexington.

We thought the train was going to stop at Lexington, but it did not. Big Sandy boys met a gang of negroes just below the depot and the boys commenced hollering and screaming. They made so much noise it would have put life into dead horses.

When one of our boys beside the track heard it he started to run and ran for about half a mile, taking the wagon with him right along beside the train. He kept right along with us, but at last he met another horse and wagon, when they got all mixed up together, each trying to go his way and fire flying every way, and so we left them in that fix. The last thing we saw was the fire flying.

When we got to Louisville it was 9:20 at night and all we could hear was the boys yelling. About six miles farther on we came to Camp Taylor. It is south from the city. It seemed like they marched us around for several miles before we at last got to our quarters. We then had to get out and make our beds and get our sleep. By that time it was about two o'clock before we got to bed. Everything was kind of strange to the boys for a day or two, but now they are having a good time. We made a collection of about $15 and bought a couple of balls and bats and two footballs, and the boys have a great time playing with them. We have plenty of time for play. Our officers are fine fellows and treat us well. They are all the time saying to us "keep clean." They want each fellow to take a bath at least twice a week. We have a good bed to sleep on and plenty to eat. They drill us about four hours each day, so far. We have not received our uniforms yet, but think we shall in a day or two. Then we shall drill 8 hours a day, and that will be about all we want to do. So thought I would write to all the people in Lawrence county before I got too busy.

On Wednesday and Saturday we have half a day off and all day Sunday. On Sunday Harry Roberts and I go to Sunday school and church at the Y. M. C. A. Some of the other boys go and a great many of them do not. Maybe they will later. We only have to go about 150 yards from our barracks. So you see it is very handy. We have fine Sunday school and meetings. Last Sunday Mr. Thompson of Louisville preached a good sermon and today Rev. W. Y. Davis of the Presbyterian church of Louisville preached to us. It certainly was a fine sermon. Afterward he said, "Listen to me, boys. And he began on the following: Title, 'Uncared For Unknown.'"

Wounded and sorrowful, far from home,
Sleek among strangers, uncared for,
Unknown;
Even the birds that used sweetly sing,
Have swiftly and silently taken to wing.
No one but mother can cheer one
L-day,
No one for me would so fervently pray;
No one to console me, no kind friend
is near,
Mother would comfort me if she were here.
Gently her hands my forehead would press,
Trying to free me from pain and
distress,
Kindly she'd say to me, "Be of good
cheer,
Mother will comfort you, mother is near."
Cheerfully, faithfully, mother would stay
Always beside me by night or by day.
If I should murmur or wish to complain
Her gentle voice would calm me again.
Sweetly as mother's love shines like
a star,
Brightest in darkness when daylight's
afar,
In clouds or in sunshine, shadow or pain,
Mother's affection is always the same,
Gently her hand on my forehead she presses,
Trying to free me from pain and
distress,
Kindly she'd say to me, "Be of good
cheer,
Mother will comfort you, mother
is near."

When he got through most of the boys seemed sad. They were thinking of home and their mothers. Listen to me, I would be glad for every mother, father or sister who has sons or brothers here to write them urging them to attend these services. It will do them great good. We intend to do the best we can here. Last Friday week we were examined and vaccinated. Four of the boys were rejected and they left for home yesterday. We are sorry they failed to pass, but wouldn't want any sickly fellows in our company. We have the finest bunch in the whole camp. We expect to be moved from here to Camp Shelby any day now. Can't tell the exact time.

Would be glad to hear from my friends any time they should care to write. Most of the people there call me Jim or Jack, but my name here is Z. K. Thanoose. All writing me should remember this.

Will quit for this time and if we go to Camp Shelby will write from there. Success to the NEWS and all my friends there.

Dr. P. Claxton, Commissioner of Education of the United States has promised to be with us if the war conditions will permit of his leaving Washington, D. C., at that time.

This bids fair to be the best Educational Program ever rendered in Eastern Kentucky. Now is the time for Johnson county people and those in adjoining counties to show their educational colors. Never before in the history of Big Sandy have we ever had the privilege and pleasure of hearing so large a number of such eminent men at any occasion. Don't miss hearing these great educators and thinkers! A treat like this comes but once in a great while. This is an organization for the Tenth Congressional District and there are ten counties in it. The custom is to hold the session in a different county each year. So you see it will be a long time before Paintsville has another opportunity like this. The same is true of all the other counties. Now we measure up to our opportunities? We want each teacher to come on Thursday and stay till the afternoon trains on Saturday. Any of the Big Sandy trains will bring you to the programs on time whether they be evening or morning trains. If you take the morning trains either north or south you will be in Paintsville in time for the full day program. If you take an afternoon train either north or south you are here on time for the evening program. So there is no excuse for the Big Sandy teachers not attending this great meeting.

Thursday evening program will be free, including all visitors, teachers, citizens, and the High School pupils. On Friday morning the enrollment of the association will start bright and early in the High School building. This will be headquarters during the entire session. From here you will be sent to the various homes, hotels and boarding houses. Busses meet all trains and the walking is never crowded. So when you get off the train at the Paintsville depot it is only one mile to the High School building. Good roads all the way. Paved streets half way.

The enrollment fee for the whole session is 50 cents. This is used to meet expense of the meeting.

Paintsville is making preparations to show all visitors a fine time. Come and bring your friends.

W. D. WARD, Secretary.

OLD NEWSPAPERS FOR SALE AT THIS OFFICE.

IF ONLY BOUGHT
AS INVESTMENT

"Liberties" Excel Strictly from the Standpoint of Safety
and Profit

But There is the Patriotic Side
That We Can Overlook
in This Crisis

Liberty Bonds are the soundest security in the world.

Everyone who makes a purchase of these bonds is making a conservative investment.

Funds invested in these bonds are certain to be returned at maturity and the interest will be paid regularly when due, without fail.

It is important that every prospective purchaser of Liberty Bonds should know just what they are.

The present issue of $3,000,000,000 10-25 Year 4 per cent Convertible Bonds were authorized by an act of Congress approved Sept. 24, 1917. The bonds bear interest from Nov. 15, 1917, and are in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They can be had in either coupon or registered form.

Ordinarily, coupon bonds are preferable. The transfer of registered bonds involve so much red tape as to affect the marketability of the bonds.

Subscribers for an amount not in excess of $1,000, who make payment in full at the time of filing their applications, will receive bonds bearing interest from Nov. 15, 1917, as soon as possible after their subscriptions are received. Such subscribers will receive an interest from date of payment to Nov. 15.

One of the attractive features of these bonds to the average investor is the fact that they are exempt as to principal and interest from all taxation by the United States, or any State, except federal, inheritance taxes and income surtaxes.

In addition to this exemption the interest on an amount of bonds not in excess of $5,000 is exempt from the federal, inheritance and income surtaxes.

The terms of payment are exceedingly liberal—2 per cent is to be paid on application, 18 per cent on Nov. 15, 1917, 40 per cent Dec. 15, 1917, and 40 per cent Jan. 15, 1918.

The Government strongly recommends that subscribers avail themselves of the services of their own banks and trust companies and make payment through them.

In order that the purchaser may be protected in his investment, these 4 per cent bonds are convertible into subsequent issues of Government bonds bearing a higher rate of interest.

Altogether the Government has made these bonds an exceedingly attractive issue.

They provide a strong incentive for every man, woman and child to save systematically. These bonds offer an investment opportunity which no one, in justice to himself, or to his country, can afford to miss.

Buy a Liberty Bond.

This is your fight. Get behind Uncle Sam and make it short and decisive. Win it. Other men are giving their lives; you are asked only to lend your money. Buy a Liberty Bond.

The happiness of many mothers and wives depends on the liberal buying of Liberty Bonds.

Many Chairmen of County Liberty Loan Committees are finding their efforts to reach the farming community very materially helped through the cooperation of Farm Bureau Agents in the counties. It is urged that whenever such agents are assigned, the County Liberty Loan Committee get immediately in touch with these agents for the purpose of helping in the agricultural districts.

Every dollar invested in Liberty Bonds assists in the establishment of world-wide and lasting peace.

"CASCARETS" FOR A
COLD, BAD BREATH
OR SICK HEADACHE

BEST FOR LIVER AND BOWELS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS, SOUR STOMACH AND CON-STIPATION.

Get a 10-cent box now.
Furred Tongue, Bad Colds, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which scurs and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your drugist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

Questions and Answers

1. What is a Government Bond?

It is the Government's engraved acknowledgment (signed by authorized officials) that the Government has borrowed from you a stated amount of money, that it will repay this full amount at a stated time, and that it will pay you interest on that amount at a stated rate on specified dates.

2. How do Liberty Bonds differ from other bonds?

First, Liberty Bonds are the money received by the Government at Liberty. Second, they are used in this country to purchase materials and supplies for the prompt and effective ending of this war.

3. How much money will the Government raise by selling these Bonds?

Three billion dollars (that is, three thousand millions).

4. Does the Government need all this money?

Yes. It will probably need even more before the war ends. In that event, more bonds will be sold.

5. Where will the Government spend this money?

In buying supplies, the Government aims to spend the money in the districts where it is raised as far as possible.

6. If I buy Liberty Bonds will I get interest on my money?

Yes, twice a year at the annual rate of 4 per cent. If a later issue of bonds is issued at a still higher rate of interest, you will get that higher rate of interest by exchanging the bonds you buy now for the new bonds.

7. If I buy Liberty Bonds will I get back all the money I pay for them?

You certainly will, if we win the war. If we don't win, you'll not have to worry about your money; the Kaiser will take all you have and then make you work to earn more for him. Thus far the United States Government has never lost a war, and the United States Government has never failed to pay back in full every dollar it ever borrowed on bonds.

8. Suppose I buy Bonds and am later in need of money. Can I turn my Bonds into cash?

Easily. Any bank or broker will be glad to sell them for you. Any bank will be glad to lend you money on your Liberty Bonds, for they are the safest collateral in the world.

9. If I sell my Bonds, will I get as much as I paid for them?

United States Government Bonds seldom sell below par—that is, the price you pay for them, the face value. Many times they go above par, so that you can sell them at a profit.

10. Where can I buy them?

At any bank or bond house and at some department stores. Ask your banker or your broker.

11. Do I pay a commission to the bank or broker?

No. Banks and brokers are glad to do you and their Government this service at their own expense. They are working for their Government as patriotic citizens.

12. How much will the Bonds cost me?

As much as you purchase. You can buy a single bond for $50, $100, $500, $1,000, just as you prefer. You can buy ten $50 bonds or one $500 for $500.

PASS ALONG THE SMOKE!
YOU warm-hearted people of Lawrence county won't let the men who are fighting your fight go smoke-hungry.
Not a bit of it. You're going to see to it that they get all the tobacco they need—just as the folks back home in England and France are taking care of the smokers for Tommy and Paul.

It isn't much to do—considering, a dollar or a quarter from you that gives a little comfort to one of your own flesh and blood—doesn't stack up to much anyway—the fact that the very man you are befriending may have to give up his life.

But it's a regular thing to do—and you "regular" men and women will do it.

This is the way! Fill in that coupon below, put it in an envelope together with all you can afford to give and drop it in the nearest box row, addressed to BIG SANDY NEWS.

"JACK" WRITES HIS LAW-
RENCE COUNTY FRIENDS

Camp Taylor, October 14, 1917.
To all who would like to hear from the Lawrence county boys:
The boys here are having good times. When we left Louisa all the good people there treated us awfully nice. They gave us candy and some nut, but when we got here we ate it together. We treat each other here like brothers. They are all alike. Nobody is better than some one else.

When we got to Ashland they furnished us a fine lunch. You can call it "lunch" if you want to, but some of us never did see such a lunch—a big shoe box full of food, fruit and all kinds of good things. And another thing, too, before we left Louisa I telephoned my sister at Ashland and she met me at the train with a big basket full of all kinds of good things. I think it must have weighed forty pounds. We ate on it until we got near Lexington.

We thought the train was going to stop at Lexington, but it did not. Big Sandy boys met a gang of negroes just below the depot and the boys commenced hollering and screaming. They made so much noise it would have put life into dead horses.

When we got to Louisville the track heard it he started to run and ran for about half a mile, taking the wagon with him right along beside the train. He kept right along with us, but at last he met another horse and wagon, when they got all mixed up together, each trying to go his way and fire flying every way, and so we left them that day. The last thing we saw was the fire flying.

When we got to Louisville it was 9:20 at night and all we could hear was the boys yelling. About six miles farther on we came to Camp Taylor, it is south from the city. It seemed like they marched us around for several miles before we at last got to our quarters. We then had to get out and make our beds and get our supper. By that time it was about two o'clock before we got to bed. Everything was kind of strange to the boys for a day or two, but now they are having a good time. We made a collection of about $15 and bought a couple of balls and bats and two footballs, and the boys have a great time playing with them. We have plenty of time for play. Our officers are fine fellows and treat us well. They are all the time saying to us "keep clean."

They want each fellow to take a bath at least twice a week. We have a good bath to sleep on and plenty to eat. They drill us about four hours each day, so far. We have not received our uniforms yet, but think we shall in a day or two. Then we shall drill 8 hours a day, and that will be about all we shall want to. So thought I would write to all the people in Lawrence county before I got too busy.

On Wednesday and Saturday we have half a day off and all day Sunday. On Sunday Harry Roberts and I go to Sunday school and church at the Y. M. C. A. Some of the other boys go and a great many of them do not yet. Maybe they will later. We only have to go about 150 yards from our barracks. So you see it is very handy. We have fine Sunday school and meetings. Last Sunday Mr. Thompson of Louisville preached a good sermon and today Rev. W. Y. Davis of the Presbyterian church of Louisville preached to us. It certainly was a fine sermon. Afterward he said, "Listen to me, boys." And he began on the following: Title, "Uncared For Unknown."

Wounded and sorrowful, far from home,
Sick among strangers, uncared for,
Even the birds that used sweetly sing,
Have swiftly and silently taken to wing.
No one but mother can cheer one to-day,
No one for me would so fervently pray;
No one to console me, no kind friend is near,
Mother would comfort me if she were here.
Gently her hands my forehead would press,
Trying to free me from pain and distress.
Kindly she'd say to me, "Be of good cheer,
Mother will comfort you, mother is near."
Cheerfully, faithfully, mother would stay
Always beside me by night or by day.
If I should murmur or wish to complain
Her gentle voice would calm me again.
Sweetly as mother's love shines like a star,
Brightest in darkness when daylight's afar,
In clouds or in sunshine, shadow or pain
Mother's affection is always the same.
Gently her hand on my forehead she presses
Trying to free me from pain and distress.
Kindly she'd say to me, "Be of good cheer,
Mother will comfort you mother is near."

When he got through most of the boys seemed sad. They were thinking of home and their mothers.

Listen to me, I would be glad for every mother, father or sister who has sons or brothers here to write them urging them to attend these services. It will do them great good. We intend to do the best we can here.

Last Friday week we were examined and vaccinated. Four of the boys were rejected and they left for home yesterday. We are sorry they failed to pass, but we don't want any sickly fellows in our company. We have the finest bunch in the whole camp.

We expect to be moved from here to Camp Shelby any day now. Can't tell the exact time.

Would be glad to hear from my friends any time they should care to write. Most of the people there call me Jim or Jack, but my name here is Z. K. Thanoose. All writing me should remember this.

Will quit for this time and if we go to Camp Shelby will write from there. Success to the NEWS and all my friends there "JACK".

day program. If you take an afternoon train either north or south you are here on time for the evening program.
So there is no excuse for the Big Sandy teachers not attending this great meeting.

Thursday evening program will be free, including all visitors, teachers,
citizens, and the High School pupils.
On Friday morning the enrollment of the association will start bright and early in the High School building. This will be headquarters during the entire session. From here you will be sent to the various homes, hotels and boarding houses. Busses meet all trains and the walking is never crowded. So when you get off the train at the Paintsville depot it is only one mile to the High School building. Good road all the way. Paved streets half way.

The enrollment fee for the whole session is 50 cents. This is used to meet expense of the meeting.

Paintsville is making preparations to show all visitors a fine time. Come and bring your friends.

IF ONLY BOUGHT
AS INVESTMENT

"Liberties" Excel Strictly from
the Standpoint of Safety
and Profit

But There is the Patriotic Side
That We Can Overlook
In This Crisis

Liberty Bonds are the soundest security in the world.

Everyone who makes a purchase of these bonds is making a conservative investment.

Funds invested in these bonds are certain to be returned at maturity and the interest will be paid regularly
when due, without fail.

It is important that every prospective purchaser of Liberty Bonds should know just what they are.

The present issue of $3,000,000,000
10-25 Year 4 per cent Convertible Bonds were authorized by an act of Congress approved Sept. 24, 1917. The bonds bear interest from Nov. 15, 1917, and are in denominations of $50,
$100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.
They can be had in either coupon or registered form.

Ordinarily, coupon bonds are preferable.
The transfer of registered bonds involve so much red tape as to affect the marketability of the bonds.

Subscribers for an amount not in excess of $1,000, who make payment in full at the time of filing their applications, will receive bonds bearing interest latest from Nov. 15, 1917, as soon as possible after their subscriptions are received. Such subscribers will receive no interest from date of payment to Nov. 15.

One of the attractive features of these bonds to the average investor is the fact that they are exempt as to principal and interest from all taxation by the United States, or any State, except federal, inheritance taxes and income surtaxes.

In addition to this exemption the interest on an amount of bonds not in excess of $5,000 is exempt from the federal, inheritance and income sur-taxes.

The terms of payment are exceedingly liberal—2 per cent is to be paid on application, 18 per cent on Nov. 15, 1917, 40 per cent Dec. 15, 1917, and 40 per cent Jan. 15, 1918.

The Government strongly recommends that subscribers avail themselves of the services of their own banks and trust companies and make payment through them.

In order that the purchaser may be protected in his investment, these 4 per cent bonds are convertible into subsequent issues of Government bonds bearing a higher rate of interest.

Altogether the Government has made these bonds an exceedingly attractive issue.

They provide a strong incentive for every man, woman and child to save systematically. These bonds offer an investment opportunity which no one,
in justice to himself, or to his country,
can afford to miss.

ever such agents are assigned, the immediately in touch with these agents for the purpose of helping in the agricultural districts.

Questions and Answers

1. What is a Government Bond?
It is the Government's engraved acknowledgement (signed by authorized officials) that the Government has borrowed from you a stated amount of money, that it will repay this full amount at a stated time, and that it will pay you interest on that amount at a stated rate on certain dates.

2. How do Liberty Bonds differ from other bonds?
They differ in that the money received by the Government on Liberty Bonds will be used in this country to purchase materials and supplies for the prompt and effective waging of this war.

3. How much money will the Government raise by selling these Bonds?
Three billion dollars (that is, three thousand millions).

4. Does the Government need all this money?
Yes. It will probably need even more before the war ends. In that event, more bonds will be sold.

5. Where will the Government spend this money?
In buying supplies, the Government
aims to spend the money in the districts where it is raised as far as possible.

6. If I buy Liberty Bonds will I get interest on my money?
Yes, twice a year at the annual rate of 4 per cent. If a later issue of bonds is issued at a still higher rate of interest, you will get that higher rate of interest by exchanging the bonds
you buy now for the new bonds.

7. If I buy Liberty Bonds will I get back
all the money I pay for them?
You certainly will, if we win the war. If we don't win, you'll not have to worry about your money; the Kaiser will take all you have and then make you work to earn more for him.
Thus far the United States has never lost a war, and the United States Government has never failed to pay back in full every dollar it ever borrowed on bonds.

8. Suppose I buy Bonds and am later in need of money. Can I turn my Bonds into cash?
Easily. Any bank or broker will be glad to sell them for you. Any bank will be glad to lend you money on your Liberty Bonds, for they are the safest collateral in the world.

9. If I sell my Bonds, will I get as much as I paid for them?
United States Government Bonds
seldom sell below par—that is, the price you pay for them, the face value.
Many times they go above par, so that you can sell them at a profit.

10. Where can I buy them?
At any bank or bond house and at some department stores. Ask your banker or your broker.

11. Do I pay a commission to the bank or broker?
No. Banks and brokers are glad to do you and their Government this service at their own expense. They are working for their Government as patriotic citizens.

12. How much will the Bonds cost me?
As much as you purchase. You can buy a single bond for $50, $100, $500, $1,000, just as you prefer. You can buy ten $50 bonds or one $500 for $500.

"MUSTARD" GAS A DANGER

Victims Are Subject to Distressing Periods of Depression Even at Time
of Convalescence—England's Countryside Delights Visitors.

London.—Perhaps the predominating impression of the visitor to the camp "somewhere in England" of American troops on their way to take part in the great war is born of the conviction of their complete happiness coupled with their adaptability to their new surroundings.

Two days after disembarking from ships that so successfully defeated the most aggressive tactics of the U-boats during the voyage from the United States coast enough of the stalwarts to make a brave showing and gladden the hearts of their English allies as an earnest of the preparations we are making at home were as comfortably settled in camp as if they had been there two years.

A party of American correspondents visiting the new arrivals as guests of the foreign office were made homesick by conversation with them. They were found enjoying all of the comforts of a well established camp ranging from the soft drinks dispensed at the Y. M. C. A. canteen to the sociability of a sing-song about the piano in a pleasantly arranged assembly tent.

The one thing about the visitors that most surprised the English army officers stationed in a camp adjoining in addition to their splendid average physique was their energy and alertness, both mentally and physically.

One English officer said he had heard first impressions of England from one of our privates more interesting than he had ever heard. Attention to what the men were saying about what they had seen since their arrival supported the officer's observation.

England's Countryside a Dream.

"It's all so trim and neat—this countryside—that one can scarcely believe it's real," was the way a soldier from the vicinity of the Rockies in Colorado put it. "Of course, it would cause no wonder in a Helasco play to see such a vista of miles of beautiful countryside, of rolling pastures surrounded by evenly trimmed miniature hedges, the whole so clean and even and exact that one searches in vain to see something out of place. We thought the railways on which we traveled were compared with ours at home. Just too cute! When I come to think of it, though, we traveled about as fast as we wanted to ride anywhere, and about as comfortably, too."

The same impressionable visitor was promptly beginning to exercise himself lest he should not have an opportunity before being sent to the front to see some of the nooks and corners of London hallowed as the haunts of famous men.

"I don't mind spilling my blood on the fields of Europe for freedom," he said, "but I don't want to do that before seeing where Shakespeare trod the stage of his Southwark theater, where Doctor Johnson and his circle of literary lights dined in Fleet street, where Charles Lamb and his sister lived, the haunts of Dickens, of Goldsmith, and the window in Whitehall from which Charles I walked to be beheaded."

"Then, of course, I wouldn't think of passing forward to contemplate myself in association with the Germans even in battle, if I had my way, before seeing the Tower of London and Westminster abbey. There are, indeed, a lot of things I've had in my mind that books don't tell, and that I want to find out for myself, anyhow."

Hear Tales of Boer War.

Under a perfect sky and warm sunshine many of the men were lying about the camp on the greenward reading books provided by the American Y. M. C. A. when not drilling or exploring the surrounding country, to permit which the bounds of the camp had been fixed on a liberal scale.

In an adjoining camp occupied by South African troops, the Americans enjoyed long conversations with veterans of the South African war and were particularly interested while getting their stories of that stubborn fight put up by the Boers to find that as many of them had fought then against England as fought under the Union Jack.

This accidental association of Americans with the South Africans in the next camp proved profitable as well as interesting, for the colonials were the first troops with actual experience in action in the war with whom our men came in contact. Naturally they picked up many valuable tips concerning the essentials of trench warfare as well as the tricks of the Hun.

One of the Germans' latest tricks with gas was described by a soldier who spoke from experience. This is the so-called "mustard" gas shell. It is shot from a mortar and, exploding within a radius of between 25 and 50 feet from a trench, leaves its occupants with a lasting impression of the meaning of "hot stuff."

"Mustard" victims suffer long. The fumes penetrate both outer clothing and underwear almost instantaneously, though the hot and burning smart of the skin that follows is somewhat mercifully dulled by the blunting of the senses that follow inhalation of the fumes. Victims of the "mustard" gas are subject to distressing periods of depression, even at the time of convalescence. Their nerves seem to have been shattered completely beyond control.

Two broad-shouldered Australians of giant stature, victims of "mustard" gas, were found almost weeping from homesickness, due to their symptomless depression by a fellow countryman in Trafalgar square, in London while on leave recently. They were soon induced to take a more cheerful view of matters and explained to their temporary host at dinner that the feeling against which they had been fighting was that they didn't have a friend in the world.

On the whole the voyages of our most recently arrived contingents were comparatively free from submarine attack in the sense of the actual firing of torpedoes, though several ships were compelled to fight off U-boats. In one instance a destroyer conveying a troopship was firing at a submarine on one side while a second anderson craft appeared or was detected near by the destroyer. There was reason to believe that the water bomb dropped by the destroyer at the second submarine was effective in its object.

The voyage from America was made in good time.

MILKMAN'S BOY HAD IDEA

He Put It Into Effect and Father Paid
$50 Fine After Milk Inspector Got Through.

Brockton.—In an alleged effort to make sure that some company should have sufficient milk for breakfast, Kenneth Arnold, aged thirteen, son of John B. Arnold of Belmont street, East Bridgewater, added water to a can.

This performance on the part of the youth cost his father $50, for it so happened the following morning the milk inspector took a sample of the milk and it was found to contain water. The father is a milk producer.

When the elder Arnold was brought into the police court on a charge of having watered milk in his possession, the defense submitted a letter written by the boy from Aetion, in which he told his mother what he had done. The court was not convinced and Arnold was fined $50.

COLONEL WEIGHS 103 POUNDS

Officer Called From Retirement Is Probably Smallest Officer in the Army.

St. Louis.—Col. Cunliffe H. Murray, who recently was recalled from retirement, has become commandant at Jefferson barracks. He is probably the smallest officer, physically, in the army, being 5 feet 2½ inches tall and weighing 103 pounds.

He was graduated from West Point in 1877 and served in the cavalry. In 1909 he was made colonel. He reached the age limit of sixty-four in August, 1916, and retired, but upon the entry of the United States into the war offered himself for any service.

Colonel Murray was appointed to West Point from New York city and when not with a command at some other place has made that his home. The minimum height for the army is now 5 feet 4 inches.

BRITISH IN LEAD AS AIR FIGHTERS

American in French Service
Pays Tribute to Fliers From England.

REGARD WORK SERIOUSLY

Germans Ahead as Builders, but Brit-
ons Are Best Fliers—One Object
Is to Bring Back Information
Required by the Staff.

London.—"There's only one air service in this war and it's the British. If that sounds like a bit of British swank, why, it merely isn't."

It's the precise statement of the case which was made the other day by an American aviator who has been during most of the war attached to the French air service. He knows all about the air business, has taught other men to fly and to fight and has himself a highly creditable record of bringing down Hun planes. He knows all the stars of the French service and many of the British.

He paid high tribute to the German flying machines, observing repeatedly that the procession of German improvements in planes and engines moves so swiftly that the allies are all compelled to hustle constantly to keep from being outdistanced. Whenever the French and British catch up with German construction the Germans produce something new and still better.

Work With Land Forces.

Equally important, he declares, the British have much the most accurate notion of what the flying service is about. They co-ordinate it with their military operations most effectively. They have less fear of the daily report of comparative losses on both sides. They use the aircraft for certain specific purposes; when the bit of information that is wanted is accounted of more value than the chance of losing some machines, why the British service goes after the information.

At the end of the day it may be necessary to make a report admitting that more British than German machines were lost; but what of that? The needed observation was taken, or the highly important photograph was secured.

"The British operate their service not with a view to saving their machines, not with a notion of avoiding dangers as much as possible; especially not with the idea that to lose more machines than the enemy loses is a showing of inferiority, a sign of defeat."

"The British aviators are not spoiled with flattery and heroics. They regard themselves very much as so many Tommies in the trenches do. Their business is to go up when they are told and get what they are sent for; just as Tommy's business is to hang on till his buddies when he's attacked, and to go over and never stop when he's ordered to attack. Neither one of them feels particularly enthusiastic about his job as a means to winning honors or distinction; he doesn't think much about that part of it. He attends strictly to the job."

"It's the sporting instinct that makes these Britishers such good flying men. They're the greatest daredevils in the business; do anything, and get away with things the Boche wouldn't think of trying. They don't look on their work as a great series of personal adventures but as part of an organized mechanism with objects a good deal bigger and more important than the interest of any one man."

"So the British don't take so much interest in the individual feats of prowess of favorite fliers. Air duelling is not the object of flying. The object is to get the information one's sent for and to get back with it."

"As soon as a flier crosses the line he must count on the great danger of being shot down by these guns as well as on the chance of meeting an enemy in the air and having to fight him."

Daredevil Looses.

"Of course all this means losses, and when they're toted up at the end of the day or week or month this part of the showing may indicate that the Boche has had all the best of it."

"But if there could be pitched into the scale on the side of the British service the results gained, the value of information gained about the enemy and of information he has been prevented from gaining about our own lines, the showing of movements accurately planned because of superior information, of positions taken or artillery fire accurately placed, of soldiers' lives saved because of better intelligence about the enemy's weak places—then the showing would be a lot different."

"Suppose a set of photographs is needed by the staff showing some section of the enemy's line perhaps a considerable distance back of the front. To have those photographs may decide whether a particular move is to be undertaken and how; so the airmen are sent after 'em. Maybe two or three will be brought down and their machines smashed up; perhaps some behind the enemy's lines—possibly somebody will fly for the last time. The point is that if one camera gets back with the pictures wanted the thing has been successful."

WORKS EIGHT-YEARS ON TOMB

Miss Melva Beatrice Wilson has spent her summers for eight consecutive years at work in Calvary cemetery, one of New York city's greatest cities of the dead. She has been engaged on the sculptural exterior and the mural interior decoration of the mortuary chapel and mausoleum erected by Cardinal Farley for the prelates and priests of the archdiocese of New York.

The chapel and the mausoleum are situated on the highest point in the cemetery, with a wonderful view commanding the turmoil of the city on one side and the wide expanse of Long Island sound on the other. The chapel and the hundred catacombs sepulchres are early Byzantine in architecture. The repeated cost is half a million dollars. The structure is built of hard blue Indiana limestone.

GERMANY SHORT ON LINEN

All Hotels and Restaurants Are For-bidden to Use Table Cloths and Napkins.

Berlin.—The lack of linen and cotton fabrics caused by the war is making itself felt more disagreeably from week to week and threatens the cleanliness of the German nation. All hotels and restaurants have now been forbidden to use table cloths and napkins, or to furnish more than one towel per day to any guest. Bed sheets, pillow cases, etc., must be used at least seven days before they are changed and washed, even if the bed during this period is used by different guests.

The Vossische Zeitung announces that after October 15 no permits for the purchase of underclothing will be issued to persons who own more than three shirts and two sets of underwear. The manufacture and sale of night shirts and pajamas are to be stopped entirely.

PATRIOTIC HENS RAISE THEIR OWN WAR GARDEN

Mansfield, O.—A. A. Arnold, superintendent of parks, has a flock of Rhode Island hens that planned, cultivated and raised a war garden that produced a peck of potatoes. The largest potato weighed 17 ounces, the next one 16 ounces.

The owner says that when potatoes were selling for $1.25 a bushel last spring his wife was so economical she pared the potatoes as thin as she possibly could, then fed the thin parings to the chickens. Instead of eating the parings, the chickens planted them in the barnyard. All summer long the fowls not only kept the weeds down in their war garden, but kept the hens off. These patriotic chickens did their bit to win the war by raising 34 potatoes from three stalks that came up from the thin parings which they conserved.

Big Man's Death Delays Funeral.
Houston, Tex.—The funeral of John Lewis Ingram, who weighed 838 pounds, was delayed because the undertaker was forced to wire for a coffin large enough for him. Ingram died following a three days' illness. He is survived by his widow and his mother. He traveled about the city in a huge built especially for him, and his chairs and bed at home were made to fit.

Pledge Card Campaign

The Pledge Card Campaign is a work for an organization of women in each county who will agree to work in couples, visiting each home in a small compact district securing from each woman the signed pledge to become a member of the United States Food Administration and assist in the economical conservation of food as far as circumstances of each will permit by following a few simple rules which are furnished her.

I have been appointed chairman of this campaign and have written each teacher in the county asking them to appoint a lady for captain of said district who will divide the district into five parts, and will appoint two lieutenants for each part. In this manner the entire county is sub-divided and two lieutenants working together in each part will visit all the households securing from each woman the signed pledge card.

I have also written all the precinct committeemen of the County Council of Defense and hope they, too, will help impress upon the teachers, captains, lieutenants and all householders the importance the Government attaches to this work.

Practically all church denominations have promised to cooperate with the United States Food Administration by having the ministers preach on the subject of food conservation. It has been suggested that we call upon each minister in our county who did not do so last Sunday, to devote the subject of his sermon Sunday, October 21 to this movement, and then the minister should be asked to announce the coming campaign and request members of his congregation to cheerfully sign these pledge cards when called upon by the team workers.

These cards let me say the success of this campaign rests on the ones I have called on to help me and I hope all will heartily cooperate and make this campaign a success.

A similar campaign will be conducted in every county in the United States during the entire week from Sunday, October 21 to Sunday, October 28. Again let me ask the teachers to send me by postal card the number of householders in each district, or the number as near as possible, immediately so I can send each the pledge cards.

The organization for Louisa will be made also.

Americans in Camp in England Study Under Tuition of Veterans.

"MUSTARD" GAS A DANGER

Victims Are Subject to Distressing Periods of Depression Even at Time
of Convalescence—England's Countryside Delights Visitors.

London.—Perhaps the predominant impression of the visitor to the camp "somewhere in England" of American troops on their way to take part in the great war is that of the conviction of their complete happiness coupled with their adaptability to their new surroundings.

Two days after disembarking from ships that so successfully defeated the most aggressive tactics of the U-boats during the voyage from the United States coast enough of the salivants to make a brave showing and gladden the hearts of their English allies as an earnest of the preparations we are making at home were as comfortably settled in camp as if they had been there two years.

A party of American correspondents visiting the new arrivals as guests of the foreign office were made homeless by conversation with them. They were found enjoying all of the comforts of a well established camp ranging from the soft drinks dispensed at the Y. M. C. A. canteen to the sociability of a sing-song about the piano in a pleasantly arranged assembly tent.

The one thing about the visitors that most surprised the English army officers stationed in a camp adjoining in addition to their splendid average physique was their energy and alertness, both mentally and physically.

One English officer said he had heard first impressions of England from one of our privates more interesting than he had ever heard. Attention to what the men were saying about what they had seen since their arrival supported the officer's observation.

England's Countryside a Dream.

"It's all so trim and neat—this countryside—that one can scarcely believe it's real," was the way a soldier from the vicinity of the Rockies in Colorado put it. "Of course, it would cause no wonder in a Belasco play to see such a vista of miles of beautiful countryside, of rolling pastures surrounded by evenly trimmed miniature hedges, the whole so clean and even and exact that one searches in vain to see something out of place. We thought the railways on which we traveled were compared with ours at home, just too cute! When I come to think of it, though, we traveled about as fast as we wanted to ride anywhere, and about as comfortably, too."

The same impressionable visitor was promptly beginning to exercise himself lest he should not have an opportunity before being sent to the front to see some of the nooks and corners of London hallowed as the haunts of famous men.

"I don't mind spilling my blood in the fields of Europe for freedom," he said, "but I don't want to do that before seeing where Shakespeare trod the stage of his Southwark theater, where Doctor Johnson and his circle of literary lights dined in Fleet street, where Charles Lamb and his sister lived, the haunts of Dickens, of Goldsmith, and the window in Whitehall from which Charles I walked to be beheaded."

"Then, of course, I wouldn't think of passing forward to contemplate myself in association with the Germans even in battle, if I had my way, before seeing the Tower of London and Westminster abbey. There are, indeed, a lot of things I've had in my mind that books don't tell, and that I want to find out for myself, anyhow."

Hear Tales of Boer War.

Under a perfect sky and warm sunshine many of the men were loitering about the camp on the greenward reading books provided by the American Y. M. C. A. when not drilling or exploring the surrounding country, to permit which the bounds of the camp had been fixed on a liberal scale.

In an adjoining camp occupied by South African troops, the Americans enjoyed long conversations with veterans of the South African war and were particularly interested while getting their stories of that stubborn fight put up by the Boers to find that as many of them had fought then against England as fought under the Union Jack.

This accidental association of Americans with the South Africans in the next camp proved profitable as well as interesting, for the colonials were the first troops with actual experience in action in the war with whom our men came in contact. Naturally they picked up many valuable tips concerning the essentials of trench warfare as well as the tricks of the Hun.

One of the Germans' latest tricks with gas was described by a soldier who spoke from experience. This is the so-called "mustard" gas shell. It is shot from a mortar and, exploding within a radius of between 25 and 50 feet from a trench, leaves its occupants with a lasting impression of the meaning of "hot stuff."

"Mustard" Victims Suffer Long. The fumes penetrate both outer clothing and underwear almost instantaneously, though the hot and burning smart of the skin that follows is somewhat mercifully dulled by the blunting of the senses that follow inhalation of the fumes. Victims of the "mustard" bombs are subject to distressing periods of depression, even at the time of convalescence. Their nerves seem to have been shattered completely beyond control.

Two broad-shouldered Australians of giant stature, victims of "mustard" bombs, were found almost weeping from homesickness, due to their sympathetic depression by a fellow countryman in Trafalgar square, in London while on leave recently. They were soon induced to take a more cheerful view of matters and explained to their temporary host at dinner that the feeling against which they had been fighting was that they didn't have a friend in the world.

On the whole the voyages of our most recently arrived contingents were comparatively free from submarine attack in the sense of the actual firing of torpedoes, though several ships were compelled to fight off U-boats. In one instance a destroyer conveying a troopship was firing at a submarine on one side while a second undersea craft appeared or was detected near by the destroyer. There was reason to believe that the winter bomb dropped by the destroyer at the second submarine was effective in its object.

The voyage from America was made in good time.

MILKMAN'S BOY HAD IDEA

He Put It Into Effect and Father Paid $50 Fine After Milk Inspector Got Through.

Brooklyn.—In an alleged effort to make sure that some company should have sufficient milk for breakfast, Kenneth Arnold, aged thirteen, son of John H. Arnold of Belmont street, East Bridgewater, added water to a can.

This performance on the part of the youth cost his father $50, for it so happened the following morning the milk inspector took a sample of the milk and it was found to contain water. The father is a milk producer.

When the elder Arnold was brought into the police court on a charge of having watered milk in his possession, the defense submitted a letter written by the boy from Acton, in which he told his mother what he had done. The court was not convinced and Arnold was fined $50.

COLONEL WEIGHS 103 POUNDS

Officer Called From Retirement Is Probably Smallest Officer in the Army.

St. Louis.—Col. Cunliffe H. Murray, who recently was recalled from retirement, has become commandant at Jefferson barracks. He is probably the smallest officer, physically, in the army, being 5 feet 2 1/2 inches tall and weighing 103 pounds.

He was graduated from West Point in 1877 and served in the cavalry. In 1909 he was made colonel. He reached the age limit of sixty-four in August, 1916, and retired, but upon the entry of the United States into the war offered himself for any service.

Colonel Murray was appointed to West Point from New York city and when not with a command at some other place has made that his home. The minimum height for the army is now 5 feet 4 inches.

BRITISH IN LEAD AS AIR FIGHTERS

American in French Service
Pays Tribute to Fliers From England.

REGARD WORK SERIOUSLY

Germans Ahead as Builders, but Brit-
ons Are Best Fliers—One Object
Is to Bring Back Information
Required by the Staff.

It's the precise statement of the case which was made the other day by an American airman who has been during most of the war attached to the French air service. He knows all about the air business, has taught other men to fly and to fight and has himself a highly creditable record of bringing down Hun planes. He knows all the stars of the French service and many of the British.

He paid high tribute to the German flying machines, observing repeatedly that the procession of German improvements in planes and engines moves so swiftly that the allies are all compelled to hustle constantly to keep from being outdistanced. Whenever the French and British catch up with German construction the Germans produce something new and still better.

Work With Land Forces.

Equally important, he declares, the British have much the most accurate notion of what the flying service is about. They co-ordinate it with their military operations most effectively. They have less fear of the daily report of comparative losses on both sides. They use the aircraft for certain specific purposes; when the bit of information that is wanted is accounted of more value than the chance of losing some machines, why the British service goes after the information.

At the end of the day it may be necessary to make a report admitting that more British than German machines were lost; but what of that? The needed observation was taken, or the highly important photograph was secured.

"The British operate their service not with a view to saving their machines, not with a notion of avoiding dangers as much as possible; especially not with the idea that to lose more machines than the enemy loses is a showing of inferiority, a sign of defeat."

"The British aviators are not spoiled with laudation and heroics. They regard themselves very much as so many Tommies in the trenches do. Their business is to go up when they are told and get what they are sent for; just as Tommy's business is to hang on till his comrades are sent for; just as Tommy's business is to hang on till his comrades are sent for; just as Tommy's business is to hang on till his comrades are sent for."

"It's the sporting instinct that makes these Britishers such good flying men. They're the greatest daredevils in the business; do anything, and get away with things the Boche wouldn't think of trying. They don't look on their work as a great series of personal adventures but as part of an organized mechanism with objects a good deal bigger and more important than the interest of any one man."

"So the British don't take so much interest in the individual feats of prowess of favorite fliers. Air duelling is not the object of flying. The object is to get the information one's sent for and to get back with it."

"As soon as a flier crosses the line he must count on the great danger of being shot down by these guns as well as on the chance of meeting an enemy in the air and having to fight him."

Disregard Losses.

"Of course all this means losses, and when they've toted up at the end of the day or week or month this part of the showing may indicate that the Boche has had all the best of it."

"But if there could be pitched into the scale on the side of the British service the results gained, the value of information gained about the enemy and of information he has been prevented from gaining about our own lines, the showing of movements accurately planned because of superior information, of positions taken or artillery fire accurately placed, of soldiers' lives saved because of better intelligence about the enemy's weak places—then the showing would be a lot different."

"Suppose a set of photographs is needed by the staff showing some section of the enemy's line perhaps a considerable distance back of the front. To have those photographs may decide whether a particular move is to be undertaken and how; so the airman sent after 'em. Maybe two or three will be brought down and their machines smashed up; perhaps some behind the enemy's lines—possibly somebody will fly for the last time. The point is that if our camera gets back with the pictures wanted the thing has been successful."

WORKS EIGHT YEARS ON TOMB

Miss Melva Beatrice Wilson has spent her summers for eight consecutive years at work in Calvary cemetery, one of New York city's greatest cities of the dead. She has been engaged on the sculptural exterior and the mural interior decoration of the mortuary chapel and mausoleum erected by Cardinal Farley for the prelates and priests of the archdiocese of New York.

The chapel and the mausoleum are situated on the highest point in the cemetery, with a wonderful view commanding the turmoil of the city on one side and the wide expanse of Long Island sound on the other. The chapel and the hundred catacomblike sepulchres are early Byzantine in architecture. The reputed cost is half a million dollars. The structure is built of hard blue Indiana limestone.

GERMANY SHORT ON LINEN

All Hotels and Restaurants Are For-

Berlin.—The lack of linen and cotton fabrics caused by the war is making itself felt more disagreeably from week to week and threatens the cleanliness of the German nation. All hotels and restaurants have now been forbidden to use table cloths and napkins, or to furnish more than one towel per day to any guest. Bed sheets, pillow cases, etc., must be used at least seven days before they are changed and washed, even if the bed during this period is used by different guests.

The Vossische Zeitung announces that after October 15 no permits for the purchase of underclothing will be issued to persons who own more than three shirts and two sets of underwear. The manufacture and sale of night shirts and pajamas are to be stopped entirely.

Unpatriotic coal miners are striking in many places. The United States is in war and the authorities have the power to take over the mines and force the men to work under martial law. If necessary this should be done. Nothing is more necessary than coal just now.

There is one vote you can cast in November that will go directly to the spot on the dry side of the liquor question and that is for V. B. Shortridge for State Senator. Dry laws are made only by prohibition men. The wet laws would not trust dry men to make wet laws. Neither with any sincere dry man vote to place the all important work of dry legislation into the hands of wet law makers. Shortridge is the only man to send to Frankfort this time. He will be in position to do other good things for his constituents also, being a member of the majority party.

Hon. V. B. Shortridge is an enterprising, well informed man who takes a real interest in all questions involving the public welfare. Good roads, clean government, progress of every desirable kind from his platform and the record of his life proves that this has been the platform he has lived by all along. It is not simply a platform patched up to make this race on. He has lived it. That's the kind of a man to send to Frankfort.

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

The Democratic ticket this year is headed by Hon. V. B. Shortridge for State Senator, and it could not be better led than by him. He stands for all that means most to the uplift of our country, morally, socially and in a business way. The best citizenship of this county, regardless of politics, should support him.

Next comes Capt. C. W. Myers, the well known C. & O. conductor, nominee for the Legislature. He is a sober, honorable gentleman who can be trusted to stand for dry legislation.

E. A. Stone, for County Judge, is perhaps better known to the people of Lawrence county than any other candidate on the ticket, having served two terms as sheriff, and it is unnecessary to make extended reference to him here.

For County Attorney Hon. G. W. Castle is our offering. He has had all the experience necessary to make a most efficient officer for this important post. Not only is he a lawyer of wide and varied experience, but he has been a State Examiner, and through the detail work of that office he became thoroughly familiar with many things that a county attorney should know. I would be a fatal mistake to elect to this position a man of no experience in the practice of law or knowledge of the duties devolving upon him. In electing Mr. Castle you will avoid the possibility of any such error.

There is not a better young man in the county than Horace Thompson, nominee for County Court Clerk. He is thoroughly competent, sober, reliable, deserving.

The Sheriff's office is one that should have the most careful attention on the part of the voters. He not only handles all the taxes the people pay, but the efficiency of the Circuit Court is largely dependent upon the kind of service he renders. It takes a conscientious, sober, and energetic man to make a good sheriff. William Taylor has all these qualifications. Every citizen, regardless of politics, will get a square deal from him. The state and county will receive every cent due them. There are lots of chances for a sheriff to do otherwise, so the thing to do is to elect a man who is too honest to take advantage of the slightest opportunity.

J. C. Short (Tode) is presented for Jailer. He is the right type of man for the place and everybody who knows him likes him. While at work in a lumber job a few years ago he was badly injured that he can not work, his right arm and hand having been permanently disabled. He is sober and honest and deserves your support.

Roland Hutchison, for Assessor, is a candidate of whom any party might well be proud. There is nothing uncomplimentary that may truthfully be said against him and there is scarcely a desirable attribute that can not be credited to him. If you do not know him, inquire of his neighbors, Democrats or Republicans.

John H. Ekers for County Superintendent and Labe Wallace for Surveyor have no opposition and it is useless to take up your space with comment, but will say that they are all right and competent. A VOTER.

What We Are Fighting Against

(By NEWELL DWIGHT HILLIS)

This war began in 1892, in a meeting held in the Palace at Potsdam. The Kaiser at that time placed in the hands of his advisers a document marked "secret and confidential." The first line
read these words: "The Pan-German Empire." The second line read: "From Hamburg And The North Sea To The Persian Gulf." The third line was: "Our immediate goal by 1915 is the Conquest Of 250,000,000 of People." The fourth line read: "Our ultimate goal is the Germanization Of All The Nations."

On the second page there was an extract from the Kaiser's speech. "From my childhood I have been under the influence of five men—Alexander, Julius Cesar, Theodor the Second, Frederick The Great, and Napoleon. These five men dreamed their dreams of a world empire—they failed. I, too, have a dream of a world empire—I shall succeed."

Two maps prepared by the Kaiser, for his associates, set forth clearly the ultimate goal to be won by his military machines. The first map was called
"The Roman Empire—Caesar Augustus, Emperor." They are spread out the countries conquered. Curtius, said and her capital a county-seat town reporting to Rome; Egypt and Antiochian conquered, while Alexander and Jerusalem report to the Emperor.
Ephesus and Athens are conquered and are county-seat towns under the Emperor's heel.

Having used the Roman Empire as his standard, the Kaiser publishes the World Map for 1920. At the top of the map were these words: "The Pan-German Empire." Beneath you read: "Kaiser Wilhelm II, Emperor." Across the State of France are the words, "Germania," for Paris is a county-seat town Upon Great Britain is written, "Germania," for London is a county-seat town.

Seven years after this was published the German admiral told the hero of Mullin Bay just what was to happen concerning this war. He told Admiral Dewey remember the Kaiser was preparing to conquer France, with the real purpose of destroying England, and then proposed to seize Canada as we think best. These facts throw a flood of light upon the Kaiser's statement to Ambassador Gerard, "When this war is finished, I will not stand any more from the United States."

Now that three years of war have been completed, we see the Kaiser missed his goal by only a hair's breadth.
1917 is here and in the Kaiser's estimate 200,000,000 instead of the 27,000,000 he hoped to have conquered. By three years' war he has increased the German population from 70,000,000 to 220, 000,000. He controls, directly or indirectly, Belgium, North France, Poland, Romania, Hungary, Austria, Bulgaria,
Serbia, Turkey and a part of Armenia.
Having prepared for the war by a vast web of cunning intrigue and treachery, through hired agents distributing bribes
in every capital of the globe, he is now preparing for peace and proposes a truce and compromise, that will give up Belgium and North France and count the incident closed. This means—he will give back about one-fiftieth of the conquered territory and people, thus retaining 140,000,000 which, with his 70,000,000 Germans, leaves the Pan-German Empire with over 200,000,000
of people and extending from the North Sea to within four hundred miles of the Persian Gulf.

Today, the Kaiser is spreading millions through his agents influencing and bribing members of the press, of the judiciary, of legislatures.
As Germany has not been involved, peace without victory means that while the rest of the world recovers from its billion of losses, Germany will be engaged in her military machine and then complete the Germanization of the whole world.

The writer has for several months
been working in the coal fields of Mingo county, W. Va., and Pike county, Ky., and cannot mention Len Luckless praise of the NEWS too heartily. The NEWS is following a course I am sure it will never have cause to regret. When a fellow gets the home news he is looking for news, not law politics. As I used to say there are two sides in every question. "Our side and the wrong side." There was never a vote gained by "shirking" the other party and I am proud the NEWS does not follow that course, and is a ray of sunshine to everyone regardless of party affiliations and is like a letter from home to a fellow away from his native hills, as well as the standard news medium for the masses regardless of political opinions.

Mrs. Lysa Sarmons was shopping in

KENTUCKY

BOY "YEGG" ADMITS GUILT.
Child of Nine Years Robs Letcher County Post Office.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 27.—Probably the youngest prisoner that has appeared in the Federal Court is George Deaton, 9 years old, who admits entering the post office at Sees, Letcher-co., and taking money and stamps. D. P. Patterson, a grown youth, is indicted with him. Deaton will testify against Patterson, who pleaded not guilty. The boy's father said he climbed in through an open window, and the boy said Patterson induced him to do it.

The government has arrested several hundred anarchists and spies during the past week. Most of them belong to the I. W. W. organization, which being interpreted, probably means "Internal Work." Details of the most diabolical plots against the government are in the hands of U. S. officials.
Wm. D. Haywood, the leader, is in prison, and if he gets his just deserts will be put to death for treason. He has long been a troublesome character.

What a War Loan Is

A great war loan is simply the device by which we are able, with the least inconvenience and disruption of our national machinery, to sift whatever portion of it is needed from its ordinary work into the work of fighting. It does not represent, save partially, an actual transfer of cash; it is a credit operation, whereby subscribers to the loan turn over to the Government, for use in its war program for the general benefit, part of the credit machinery at their disposal, which they would otherwise have employed in procuring things for their individual benefit. Viewed in this way, the six or seven billions of war debt can fairly be compared to the $230,000,000,000 of productive wealth of the United States. It amounts only to a fraction of the income from that $230,000,000,000,
and, consequently, even if it represented a total loss—which it does not by any means—it would be a loss that we might fairly expect to bear.

LIBERTY LOAN SUNDAY.

Sunday, Oct. 21, has been officially designated as Liberty Loan Sunday throughout the United States. Committees will arrange with clergymen of all denominations to preach Liberty Loan ser-

DESERVES A GOLD MEDAL FOR THIS

Cincinnati authority tells how to dry up any corn or callous so it lifts right off.

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before says this Cincinnati authority because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once and soon the corn loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without a bit of pain.

A quarter of an ounce of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn or callous. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue or skin.

If your wife wears high heels, she will be glad to know of this.

SPECIAL SALE OF LADIES SUITS OCTOBER 19 AND 20

HEADS YOU WIN TAILS YOU WIN

Liberty Loan Bonds Are Like the Rock of Ages

This story is told of a New York financier whose shrewdness and judgment made him respected among even the money kings of Wall Street. Several years ago an acquaintance expressed his surprise at the report that he had sold out his holdings in a company with which he had been long identified and which was understood to be extremely prosperous.

"The report is true," said the financier. "I have sold."

"But," protested his friend, "we all thought that was a bonanza. It pays enormous dividends, doesn't it?"

"Thirty per cent," returned the financier.

"But," protested his friend, "we all thought that was a bonanza. It pays enormous dividends, doesn't it?"

"I want my principal," said the financier dryly.

The following year that company ceased paying dividends.

This story is particularly applicable to the present time. Many enterprises that have been profitable will find it difficult to meet the conditions which are arising now. Whether the war be long or short, this is bound to be a time of readjustment. For the gamblers there may still be allurement in the showing made up to now by various enterprises whose stocks are flaunted in the public markets. The prudent, however, will realize that the inevitable readjustments which must follow the disturbed conditions arising from the war demand unusual caution in any kind of investment now.

To those who have half an eye for the future, just one enterprise is bound to appeal to them as the Rock of Ages. That is the United States of America. Only the victory of the Kaiser and the other Powers of Darkness can bankrupt that, and no American with one drop of red blood in his veins will admit such a possibility.

Liberty Loan Bonds will be selling at a premium when many of the so-called gilt-edged securities of today will be useful only as melancholy souvenirs of imprudence. Liberty Loan Bonds pay an honest interest. They are convertible into the new issues which must follow if this war continues, and which very likely will be issued at higher rates of interest.

Can any sacrifice that you make by buying Liberty Bonds equal that of a mother in giving her boy to the country?

"MORE BUYERS" NOW A REAL SLOGAN

Workers Seek a Larger Army to Smash the Kaiser With Dollars

Cleveland, O., Oct. 8.—One million subscribers and four hundred million dollars are the marks at which the minute men of the Liberty Bond Volunteers of the Fourth Federal Reserve District are to aim in their smash upon the trenches of the dollars of our daddies. The actual quota for the district is $300,000,000. But for the psychological effect it will have upon the skeptical German mind it is desired that there be a big oversubscription shown throughout the country for this second loan.

In the first bond campaign, when there was an oversubscription of more than $60,000,000 in this district, the individual subscribers totaled 504,675. These were divided among the four states as follows: Ohio, 88 counties, 336,824; Pennsylvania, 19 counties, 148,790; Kentucky, 53 counties, 10,920; and West Virginia, 6 counties, 8,141.

Save in Kentucky, where none of the counties in the district has a city of any considerable population, the larger contributions were all gathered in those counties where some large city is located. In Ohio, Cuyahoga county, with Cleveland's assistance, showed 114,832 subscribers, with a total of $68,711,550. Hamilton county (Cincinnati), 33,108 subscribers, $32,824,750; Lucas county (Toledo), 37,110 subscribers, $10,376,050; Summit county (Akron), 26,342 subscribers, $3,755,350; Mahoning county (Youngstown), 13,590 subscribers, $7,722,850; and Franklin county (Columbus), 11,312 subscribers, $7,519,900.

In Pennsylvania, Allegheny county (Pittsburgh), produced 87,330 of the total of $107,151,250. In West Virginia, Ohio county (Wheeling) showed 7,109 of the aggregate of 8,141 subscribers, and $3,379,750 of the total bond sales of $3,896,100. In Kentucky, Fayette county lead in sales with $1,557,800, and 2,721 subscribers.

The organizations in every county in the district have been furnished a statement of the number of subscribers and the aggregate of sales of the last campaign, and each county chairman has been especially urged to surpass just as greatly as possible both the number of subscribers and the aggregate of sales in the present drive. Later their individual county quotas will be furnished them.

From all over the district assurances have come to C. A. Paine, chairman of Fourth Federal Reserve District Loan committee, that this smash upon the fortresses of fortune will be such as to cast an abiding gloom about the strongholds of Prussianism.

You should buy Liberty Bonds: Because you love your country. Because they are an absolutely safe investment.

REVISION OF COAL PRICES.

The Fuel Administration has announced an upward revision of coal prices in certain outlying districts of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia.

In Kentucky prices in several districts were raised from $1.95 to $2.40 for run of mine coal.

This was the first revision of coal prices, which, when set, were announced as tentative, and follows representations to the Fuel Administration by both operators and miners that an upward revision was imperative to meet demands for increases in wages.

The prices raised were put up to the same level as the prices charged now in the Jellico district. The territory embraced in the order includes:

In Kentucky—The counties of Co. Crenshaw, Polk, Rockcastle, Jackson, Lee, Wolfe, Morgan, Lawrence, Johnson, Martin, Breathitt, Perry, Leslie, Harlan, Magoffin, Boyd, Carter, Pike and all of Floyd, Knott and Letcher, except coal produced from the thick vein in Elk Horn district.

"The conditions in the fields named," the announcement said, "are exceptional and do not affect the prices heretofore fixed by the President in the principal bituminous fields. If, upon completion of investigations now being made of operators' costs in the fields affected, it is found that these changes are not justified, further modifications will be made."

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR, DOUBLE ITS BEAUTY

TRY THIS! HAIR GETS THICK, GLOSSY, WAVY AND BEAUTIFUL AT ONCE.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain—that is the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, soft, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, just and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse.

Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of F. Woodson's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

MOTHER! DON'T TAKE CHANCES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

IF CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK, BILIOUS, CLEAN LITTLE LIVER AND BOWELS.

Children love this "Fruit laxative" and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, your bile and indigested food passes out of the system and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

BUY A LIBERTY BOND. The war must be won if your own liberties and rights are to be maintained, and in order to win your Government must have ample funds.

While part of the vast sums which the Government must use in successfully carrying out its plans will come from taxes, a still larger part must be raised by selling bonds, which will be paid off in later years.

The peace we all long for must come through real sacrifice on the part of every man and woman. He must all spend less and save more. Unless the people practice thrift, the nation will not thrive. This is true in times of peace, but infinitely more so in war times. It is of supreme importance now when the climax of the greatest war in the world's history is not yet in sight.

The Government's plans must be promptly carried out to prevent delay in our war preparations and to save lives. A large subscription will enable the Government to make war efficiently, thus tending to shorten the war and bring peace nearer, and therefore:

1. It will help YOU.
2. It will help YOUR FAMILY.
3. It will help YOUR COUNTRY.
4. It will help CIVILIZATION.

A Liberty Bond may save a soldier. A Liberty Bond, in fact, may save your soldier.

HELLIER NEWS

(By HARRY COHEN)

OPPORTUNITY!

Master of human destiny am I!
Fame, love, and fortune on my footsteps wait.
Cities and fields I walk. I penetrate Deserts and seas remote, and passing by,
Hovel and mart and palace, soon or late,
I knock unbidden, once at every gate.
If sleeping, wake; if feasting, rise
before
I turn away. It is the hour of fate,
And those who follow me reach every state.
Mortals desire, and conquer every foe.
Save death; but those who doubt or hesitate Condemned to failure, penury, and
woe,
Seek me in vain and uselessly inquire.
I answer not, and I return no more!
—Harry Cohen.
